Large Interior (Inside – 151 sq ft) Cabin - Cost effective, but not lacking in style and room. This style of cabin is perfect for the guest who tends to sleep, shower and change in their room. If you are expecting to attend a lot of classes, then this may be a great option.

Perks - Great for those who like to sleep in total darkness, as there is no outside window to allow light in.

Pouts - A little stuffy if you have any sort of claustrophobic tendencies. The art of mirror placement, however, gives a sense of size to ease discomfort.

Prices (Include cabin, food, entertainment, activities, taxes, port charges, fuel surcharge, admin/conference fees)

Double Occupancy - $1,233.15 pp

Single Occupancy - $1,843.15 pp

3rd and/or 4th guests - $TBD, varies for each type/category of cabin.

($500 per cabin required deposit, due to the limited number of these cabins on the ship. They sell out FAST.)

Superior Interior (Inside – 174 sq ft) Cabin – 23 sq ft larger than the Interior Cabin and still very cost effective. Again, this style of cabin is perfect for the guest who tends to sleep, shower and change in their room. If you are expecting to attend a lot of classes, then this would be great for you and a roommate to share. Only 2 left!

Perks - Great for those who like to sleep in total darkness, as there is no outside window to allow light in.

Pouts - A little stuffy if you have any sort of claustrophobic tendencies but there are lots of mirrors which make the space appear larger and more open.

Prices (Include cabin, food, entertainment, activities, taxes, port charges, fuel surcharge, admin/conference fees)

Double Occupancy - $1,343.15 pp

Single Occupancy - $2,063.15 pp

Large Ocean View (Outside – 154 sq ft) Cabin - A great cabin for viewing the Ocean, the changing Alaskan landscape, glaciers, sunsets and sunrises. Gives an open and airy feeling to the room, and allows just enough light in the room for gentle wake-ups.

Perks - Nice sunshine, curtains between sitting area and bed, allowing for near separate rooms. Nice for guests or sessions.

Pouts - You have to stand on your knees on the bed to look out at the ocean. Not a comfortable stance.

Prices (Include cabin, food, entertainment, activities, taxes, port charges, fuel surcharge, admin/conference fees)

Double Occupancy - $1,413.15 pp

Single Occupancy - $2,203.15 pp

Superior Ocean View Stateroom with Balcony (195 sq ft, balcony 41 sq ft) - This is one great cabin! Those Sea Angels who upgraded to get one of these awesome rooms were not disappointed! In fact, the going word now is - "once you go balcony, how can you ever go back?" Everything that all the other rooms offer with the addition of one entire wall being sliding doors which open to your comfortable balcony! A perfect private meditation spot for practitioners and presenters as you prepare for the day. Or, open your doors and hear the ocean as you rest. What a real treat! And, luckily we booked these rooms at almost the same price as last year!

Perks - Umm, did I tell you about the balcony? And so much LIGHT in the room! WOW! To be able to open the drapes and do sessions in a room with a floor to ceiling ocean view! And to observe the glacier, shoreline or port as you go by...

Pouts - if your neighbors use their balcony a lot and are noisy, it might be disruptive at night.

Prices (Include cabin, food, entertainment, activities, taxes, port charges, fuel surcharge, admin/conference fees)
